Most of the time, we know what we should do.

The real test of ethics and character is whether we are willing to do the right thing … even when it is likely to cost more than we want to pay.
Confucius: What you do not want done to yourself, do not do unto others.

Aristotle: We should behave to others as we wish others to behave to us.

Judaism: What you dislike for yourself, do not do to anyone.

Hinduism: Do nothing to thy neighbor which thou wouldst not have him do to thee thereafter.

Islam: No one of you is a believer unless he loves for his brother what he loves for himself.

Buddhism: Hurt not others with that which pains thyself.

Christianity: Do unto others as you would have them do unto you.

4. Compliance with applicable Laws and Regulations

“Members of the University community are expected to become familiar with the laws and regulations bearing on their areas of responsibility.”

Ethics Transcends the Law

Ethics requires us to give up the idea that an act is proper simply because it is permissible or that an act is ethical so long as it is legal.
Ethics Transcends the Law

There is a big difference between what you have a right to do and what is right to do.

Rights

Ethics Transcends Laws

Minimum compliance is like aiming for the outer rim of the target.
Jack’s Rule of Thumb

- We judge other people by their actions and we judge ourselves by our intent.

Jack Azzaretto, UCR, “Ethics for UC Business Officers”

5. Compliance with Applicable University Policies, Procedures and Other Forms of Guidance

“It is not acceptable to ignore or disobey policies if one is not in agreement with them, or to avoid compliance by deliberately seeking loopholes.”
Rationalizations
Classical Fallacies – It’s not unethical if …

1. It’s for a good cause
2. I’ve got it coming
3. It’s legal
4. Everyone does it
5. Others are a lot worse
6. I don’t get caught
7. It’s not for me
8. It benefits my family
9. It’s necessary/it’s the only way I can win
10. I’m just following orders
11. My job is on the line
12. I’m just fighting fire with fire
13. No one is really hurt

Doctrine of Relative Filth

I’m not so bad as long as others are worse.

—Michael Josephson
6. Conflicts of Interest or Commitment

“In all matters, community members are expected to take appropriate steps, including consultation if issues are unclear, to avoid both conflicts of interest and the appearance of such conflicts.”
Perception is Reality

• When it comes to trust, perception is reality.
• It is not enough that we do no wrong, we must also try to assure that others believe we have done no wrong.

    • Study produced toxicities in humans, but was not terminated
    • Reports misrepresented actual clinical findings
    • Consent form did not disclose anticipated toxicities
  – Settlement: $1,032,118
8. Records: Confidentiality / Privacy and Access

“Access to information concerning the conduct of the people’s business is a fundamental and necessary right of every person, as is the right of individuals to privacy.”

Disbursements and Documents Supporting Financial Transactions

• Retain documents for review by auditors
• Keep for the periods specified in the UC Records Disposition Schedules Manual
9. Internal Controls

“Each business unit or department head is specifically responsible for ensuring that internal controls are established, properly documented and maintained for activities within their jurisdiction.”

“Any individual entrusted with funds, including principal investigators, is responsible for ensuring that adequate internal control exists over the use and accountability for such funds.”

Ethics is the Foundation of Internal Control

Bell, Book & Candle Test

Listen for the bells warning you of an ethical issue.

Check to see if there are any laws, regulations or rules which restrict your choices.

How will your decision look in the light? Could a reasonable fair-minded person conclude you acted improperly?
