

Central Research Services Facility

- Provides centralized research-sanitation support, mainly cage-wash services; renovates some existing space and relocates existing equipment to the new facility.
- Adds two floors of office and administrative space for departments that directly support research, mitigating space shortages in Health Sciences programs and consolidating operations for Resource Management and Planning and Research units.
- Consolidates research-sanitation facilities currently at seventeen locations on campus.
- Provides critical infrastructure to School of Medicine Neighborhood.
