

Advocacy Engagement: Social Media Tips

UC advocates are encouraged to use social media to explain the value of federal investments in UC programs and the benefit they have to the University and its mission of education, research, health care and public service. If you use social media, consider sharing stories and photos about your experiences. Your representatives are most interested in understanding how proposed policies and legislation can directly impact the everyday lives of their constituents.

Tips for Social Media

- Make your social media posts short, positive and to the point.
- Use event and trending hashtags, and tag official account handles, so you can contribute to the online conversation.
- Consider posting to social media in the following situations:
 - Before/after you attend a (virtual) meeting or town hall with a member/staff or speak with an office on the phone – be sure to tag the office.
 - After you hear a member/staff express support for an issue affecting you or your campus, lab or medical center.
 - To reflect and discuss personal highlights from your personal experience.
