Program overview
What is a Hispanic Serving Institution?

- A Hispanic-Serving Institution (HSI) is defined as an institution of higher education that has an enrollment of undergraduate full-time equivalent students that is at least 25 percent Hispanic. HSIs are eligible for certain grants from the U.S. Department of Education to assist with strengthening institutional programs, facilities, and services to expand the educational opportunities for Hispanic Americans and other underrepresented populations.

Do the students benefitting from a grant’s proposed efforts have to be Latinx/Chicanx/Hispanic?

- No. While the intent of the grants program is to enhance faculty pathways for historically underrepresented groups, particularly Latinx, African Americans, American Indians/Native Americans, Filipinx and Pacific Islanders in all disciplines; women in STEM; and Asian Americans in the humanities and social sciences, UC-HSI DDI is designed to support students irrespective of race, ethnicity, national origin, sex, or gender identity. Note: the guidelines for the UC-HSI DDI President’s Pre-Professoriate Fellowship are different (please see relevant information on the website).

Can I propose efforts not listed in the “examples”?

- Yes. Since the UC-HSI DDI is a new systemwide effort, it is difficult to predict which projects/programs/activities will be most successful and yield greatest impact. As such, the request for proposals (RFP) lists examples of interventions that have demonstrated past successes, but the UC HSI-DDI encourages and welcomes innovative strategies that align with and address the goals of the program.

How many projects do you anticipate will receive funding?

- It is difficult to know. Because this is the inaugural year of the UC-HSI DDI, it is impossible to predict how many proposals we will receive in total, and/or per each of the funding mechanisms (large vs. small grants); therefore, we cannot allocate specific amounts to each award type nor do we know what types of projects the Initiative will fund. Proposals will be assessed thoroughly by a panel of reviewers who will recommend the most meritorious proposals that align with the goals of the program. After the cycle closes, a list of awardees will be posted on the website.

How many proposals can each campus submit?

- There are no limits on the number of proposals that a UC campus can submit to the UC-HSI DDI competitive grants program. However, individual PIs are eligible to submit no more than one proposal (only one large grant or one small grant, but not both), but they may serve as co-investigators/collaborators on other UC-HSI DDI grants.

What timeframe do the proposed efforts/activities have to take place?

- Funding for the 2019-2020 award cycle is expected to transfer in spring 2020. PIs will have the flexibility to define the length of their grant term from that point—up to five years for large awards and up to two years for small awards.
There are two Chief Diversity Officer contacts listed for UC Santa Cruz. Which one should sign my proposal?

- To view a list of the Chief Diversity Officer from your campus, please visit: https://diversity.universityofcalifornia.edu/policies-guidelines/. For UC Santa Cruz, the officials at that campus have indicated that Teresa Maria Linda Scholz (Campus Diversity Officer for Staff and Students) will serve as the point of contact for UC-HSI DDI proposals.

Regarding the letters of support, rather than getting individual support letters from each administrator, could one letter from the department chair cover all the administrators from the department who will contribute to the project?

- Yes. Please include individual letters from key personnel only.

Eligibility

How do I know if I work for a Hispanic Serving Institution (HSI) or if my collaborators are at HSIs?

- The UC-HSI DDI will focus on California HSIs—which officially includes five of the nine undergraduate UCs (UCI, UCM, UCR, UCSB, and UCSC---UCD is working to become an HSI) as well as designated California State University (CSU) campuses (21 of 23 campuses), and several private colleges and universities throughout the state. For your reference, please visit our website for a list of federally designated California HSIs.

Can I work with HSIs from other states?

- No. This program is dedicated to support California HSIs.

Do I have to work with California State University (CSU) campuses and private HSIs?

- No. PIs may work with any combination of California HSI institutions, including CSUs, other UC campuses or folks from their home campus—as long as their home campus is a designated HSI.

I am not employed at an HSI, can I serve as PI?

- Yes. PIs may be from non-HSI UC campuses as long as they are collaborating with a designated HSI. PIs must be University of California faculty senate members representing administrative or academic units.

I am an academic staff member on my campus; can I serve as the principal investigator (PI) on the grant?

- No. Only academic senate faculty members are eligible to serve as principal investigators (PIs). Administrators (such as Department Chairs or Deans) may serve as PIs as long as they are senate faculty members. Other academics and staff, such as senior researchers, scientists, and program directors may serve as grant collaborators.

Budget and expenses

How many years of funding can I request?

- Large awards can submit proposals up to $350,000 to be used within 5 years, and small award applicants can submit proposals up to $50,000 to be used within 2 years.

Can I request salary for my work on the project during the summer?

- No, this program does not allow for summer salary.

What am I allowed to budget for with this grants program?

- You may request support for student-related expenses (such as stipends, room and board, travel, etc.), or other project expenses that are not student-related (such as contractors, equipment, travel, etc.).
Can I include indirect costs in the budget?

- No. You do not need to account for indirect costs on your budget. It is assumed that those costs will be covered by the campus since they will not be covered by the grant.

Reporting and monitoring

Is annual reporting required?

- Yes. Annual reporting is required for both award types, in addition to engaging in regular conference calls to share, learn from and improve inclusion and equity efforts at UC. Failure to participate may jeopardize a PI’s funding and ability to apply to future grant cycles.

Application submission

I am unable to enter data into the application documents on your website. Where do I get documents that I can edit?

- The documents on the website are meant to be examples only, so they are all pdfs and not fillable documents. The excel and .doc templates are available through proposalCENTRAL (pC). Once you log into pC to prepare your application you will have access to all the application templates. The templates are all located in the “Download Templates and Instructions” section on pC. Please review the application instructions for more information.

When can I get customer service at pC?

- pC works on Eastern Time. Please note the deadline is January 24, 12pm (Pacific Time), which is 3pm (Eastern Time). Contact pC during their local operating times.

Does the proposal require the signature of the campus Contracts and Grants official?

- No. Signatures by the PI’s next level authority (e.g. Department Chair or Provost) AND the campus’ Chief Diversity Officer are required. However, campuses may require you to obtain your C&G official’s signature. If so, please provide ample time to acquire that signature as well. The annual award allocation will be transferred directly to principal investigators (PIs) at their departments.
