Regents item: University of California efforts to advance affordable course materials and open educational resources

Meeting of July 21, 2021

As part of estimating costs and setting estimates of student expense budgets, UC administers a UC Cost of Attendance Survey every two years (as of 2021).

Among the observations from the most recently completed survey, average annual expenses for textbooks and educational supplies declined between the 2013 and 2016 surveys, and that trend continued with the 2019 survey:

- In 2019 students reported average annualized spending of $451 on textbooks—34 percent less than what students reported in 2016 in constant dollars. This decrease in spending on textbooks continues the declining trend in textbook expenses over the past three COAS surveys. (see Figure 1).

This information identified where to prioritize targeted support for existing students. It also emphasized the importance of ensuring incoming students had familiarity and confidence in how to use remote instruction tools and that campus orientation sessions needed to be expanded to meet this need to ensure students had a successful start in the fall.

Survey services

IRAP Survey Services

IRAP’s Survey Services can assist units across UCOP and the campuses that participate in UC systemwide surveys to UC students, faculty, staff, and alumni.

Survey Planning & Consultation

IRAP offers consultation on instrument design, question wording, sample determination, survey programming in Qualtrics (our online survey tool), survey administration, and analysis and reporting. IRAP will consider requests for assistance with the development and analysis of surveys conducted by UCOP and UC systemwide units, committees, and task forces. Please contact surveyteam@ucop.edu to schedule a consultation.

When planning to administer a survey, IRAP takes several matters under consideration, including:

- Currently available systemwide data, including survey data
- The broad systemwide purpose of the survey
- The IRAP survey calendar to identify potentially competing surveys
- Managing the number of surveys a specific population receives in a period of time to ensure the survey response rate is not compromised by a decreased willingness to participate in surveys (i.e. survey fatigue)

Survey Requests & Proposing New Surveys

The IRAP survey team also reviews multi-campus or systemwide proposals to survey UC students, faculty, staff, and alumni. To allow for a thorough review of each proposal, proposals should be submitted at least 2 months prior to the planned administration date (e.g., submit a proposal by April 1 if you want to administer the survey starting June 1).

Please send responses to the following questions along with a copy of your survey instrument to surveyteam@ucop.edu:

1. How often will the survey be administered?
2. When will the survey be administered (e.g., spring, fall, etc.)
3. What is the population size for the survey?
4. How many reminder messages will be distributed?
