

09:41

100%

< Sustainability

Eco-M@pp

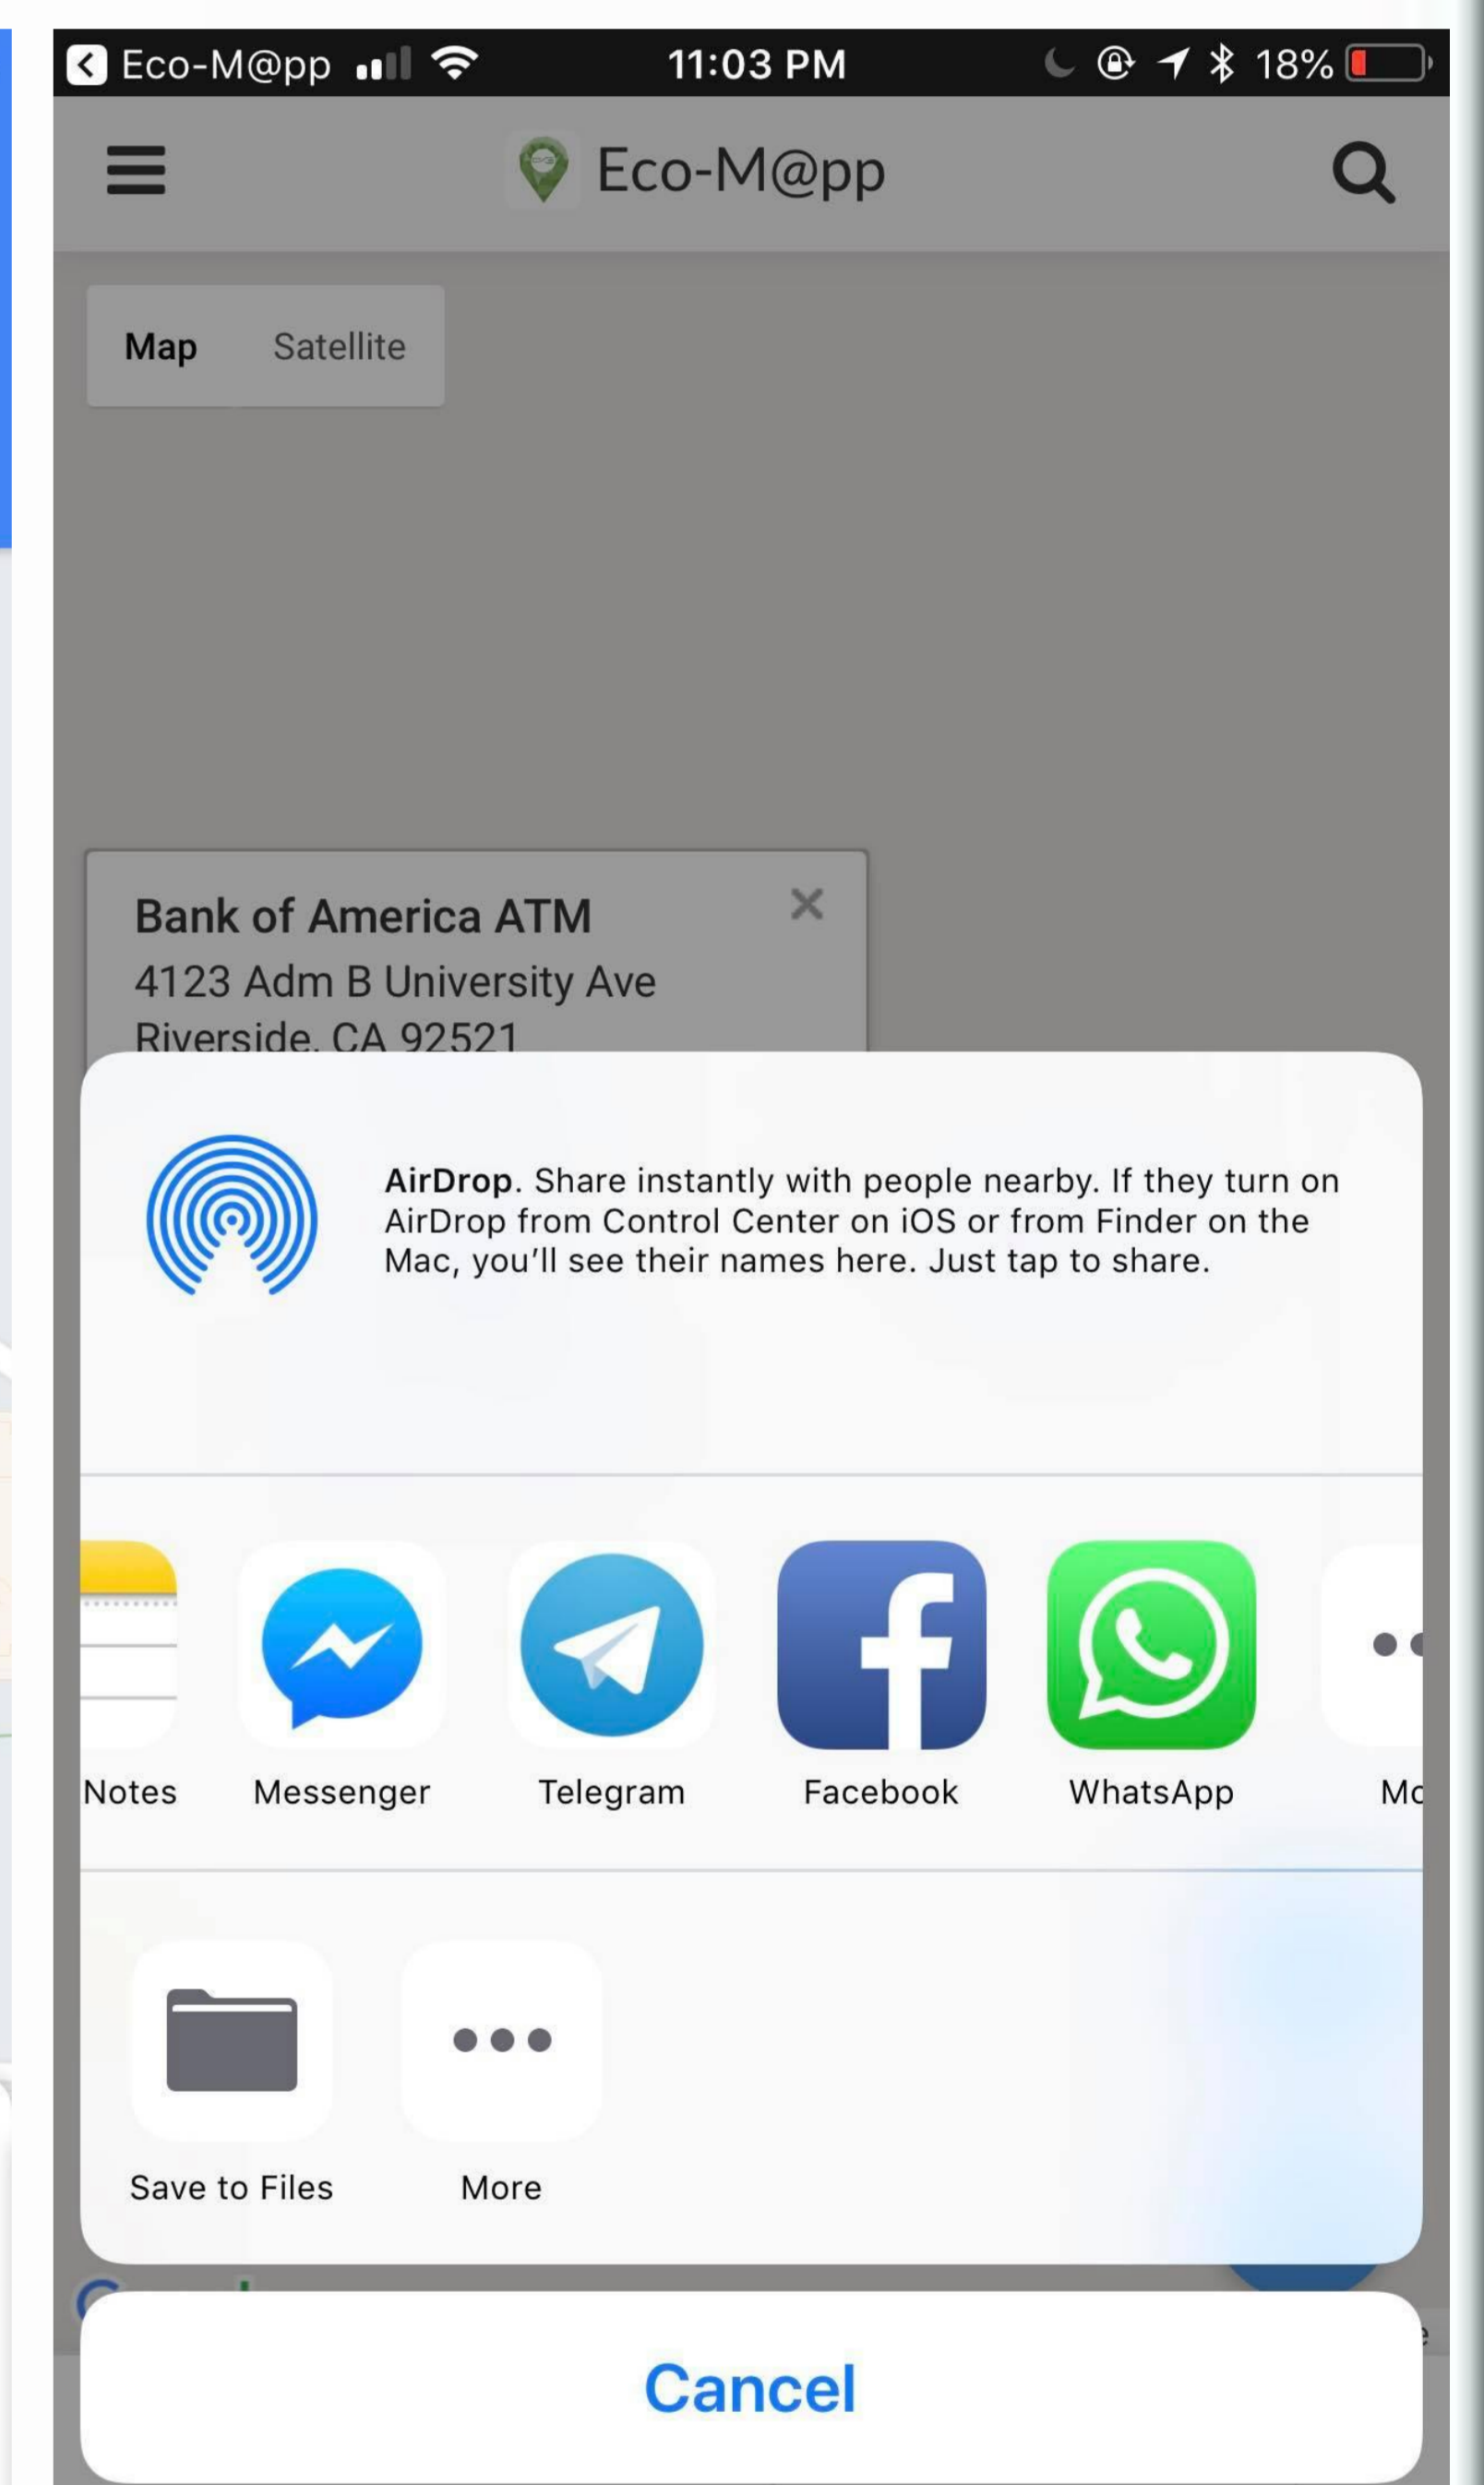

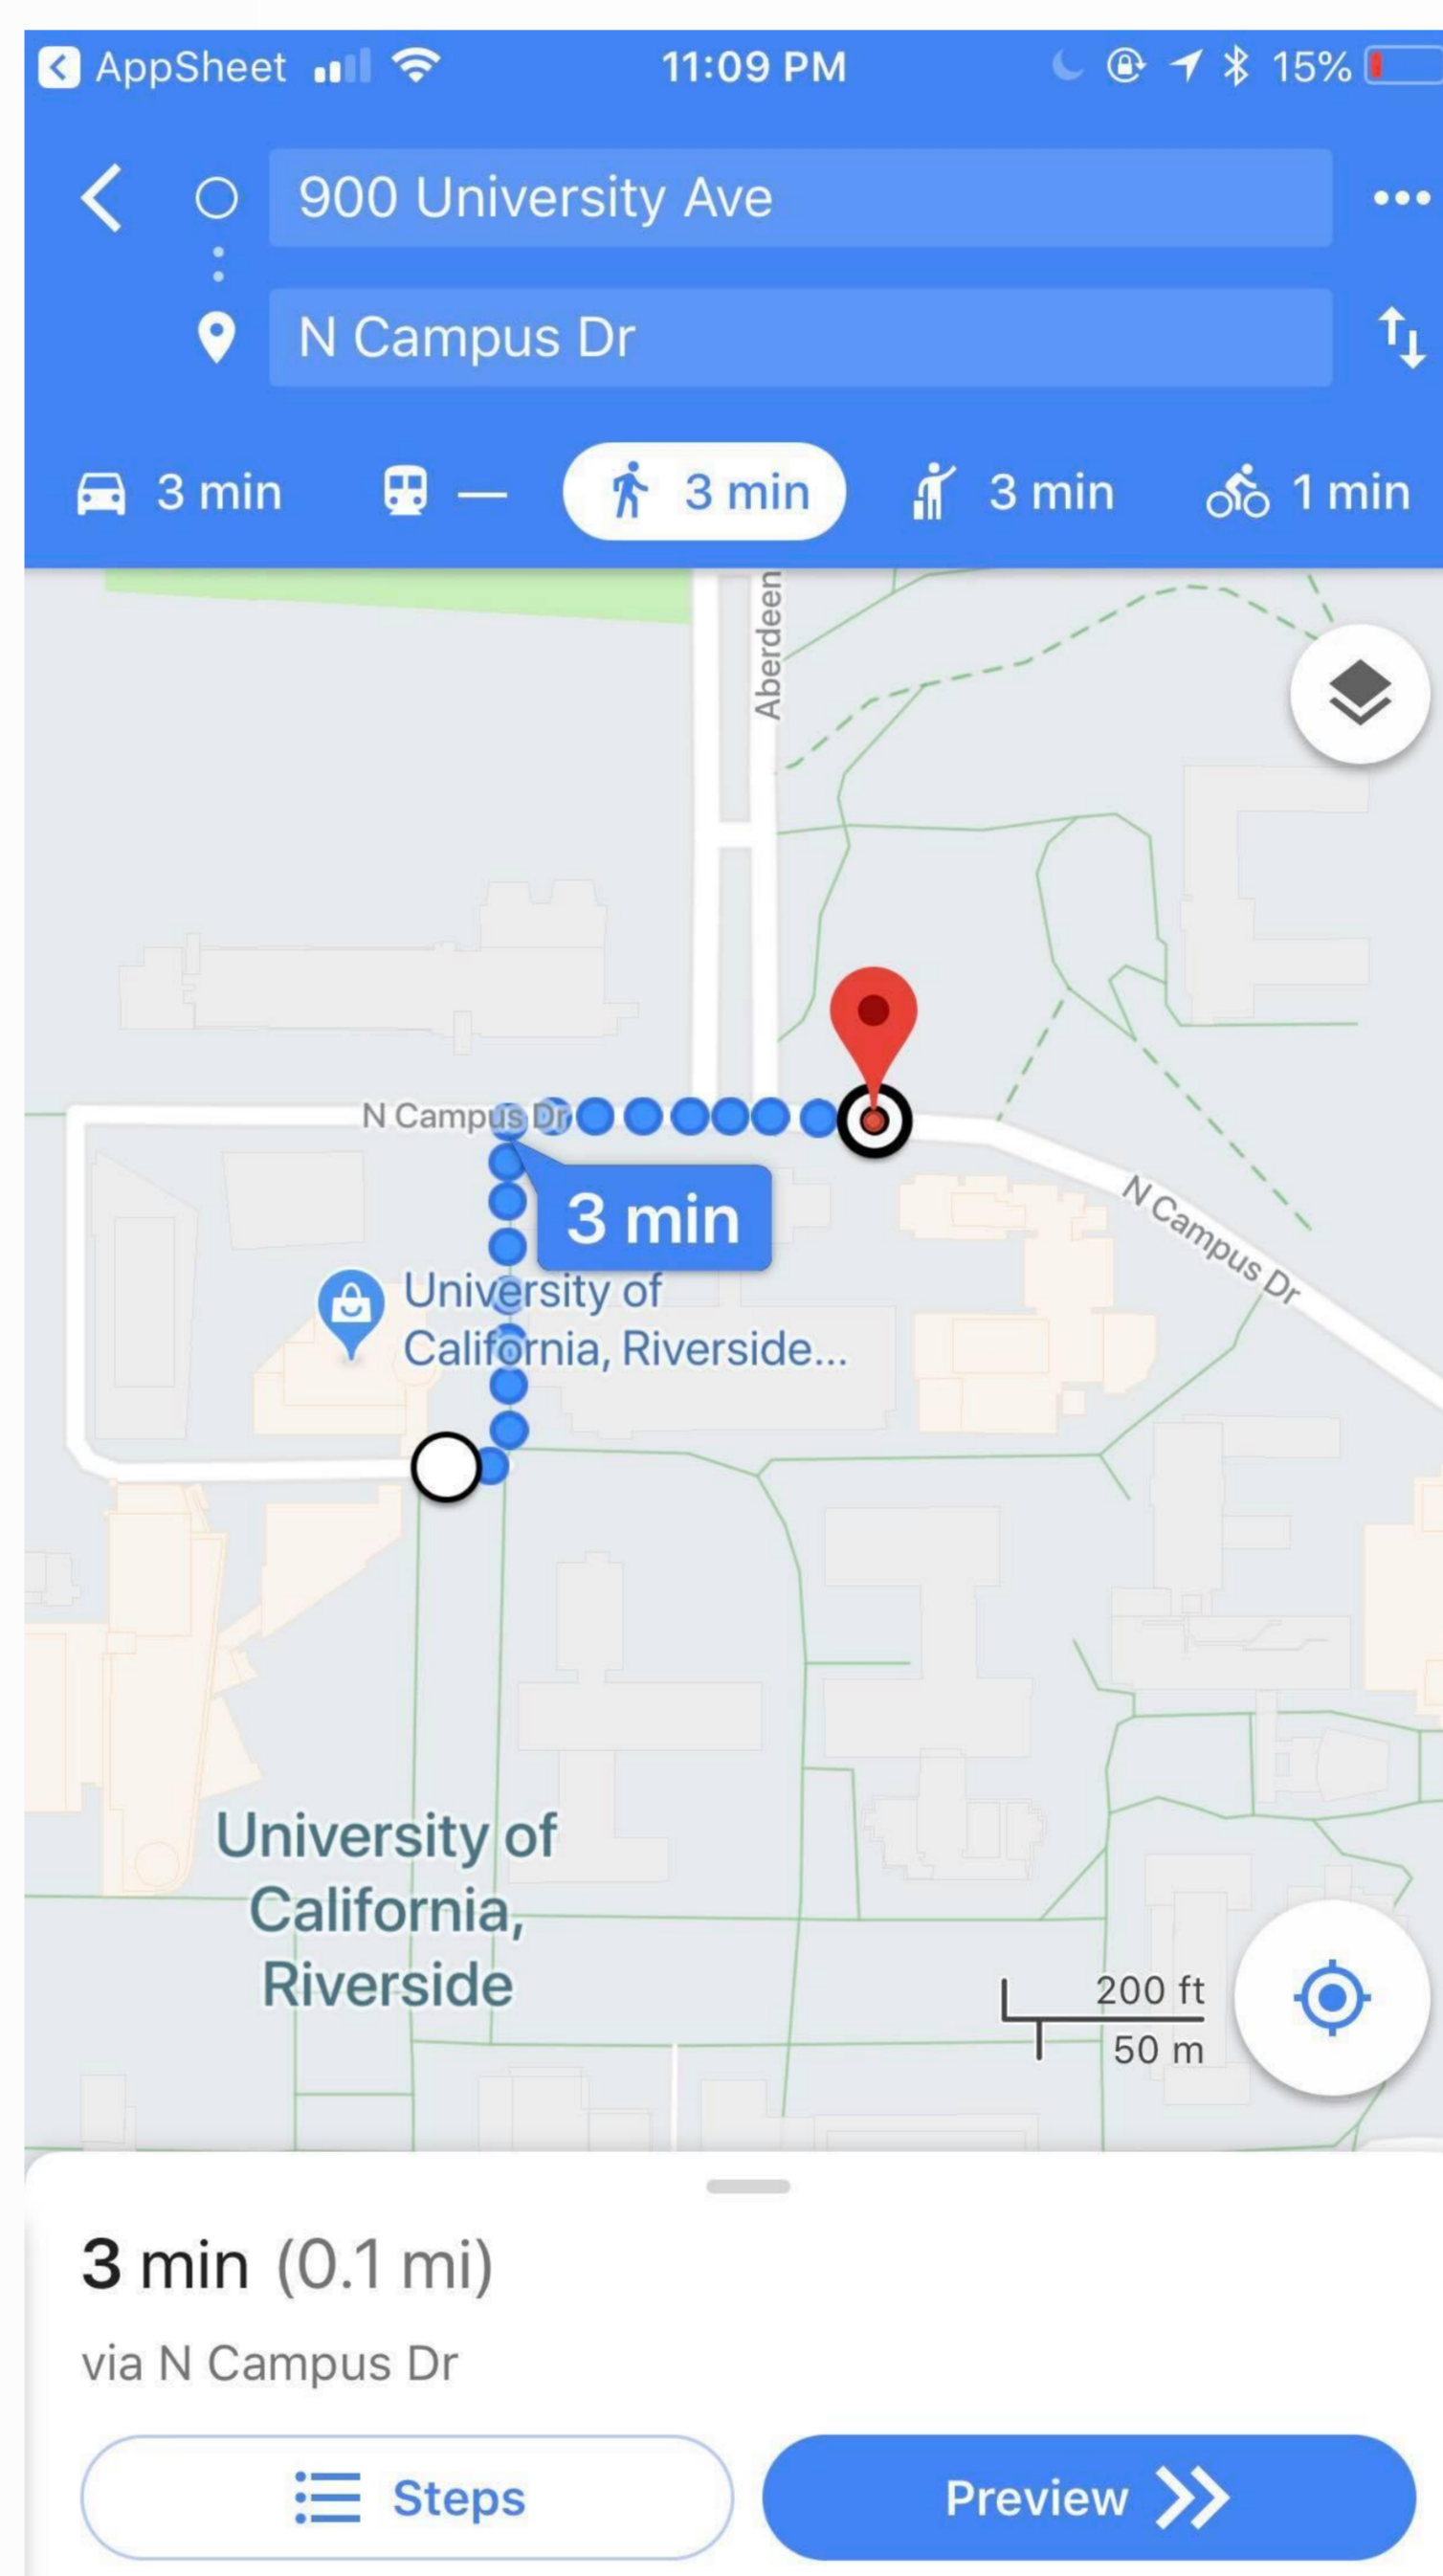

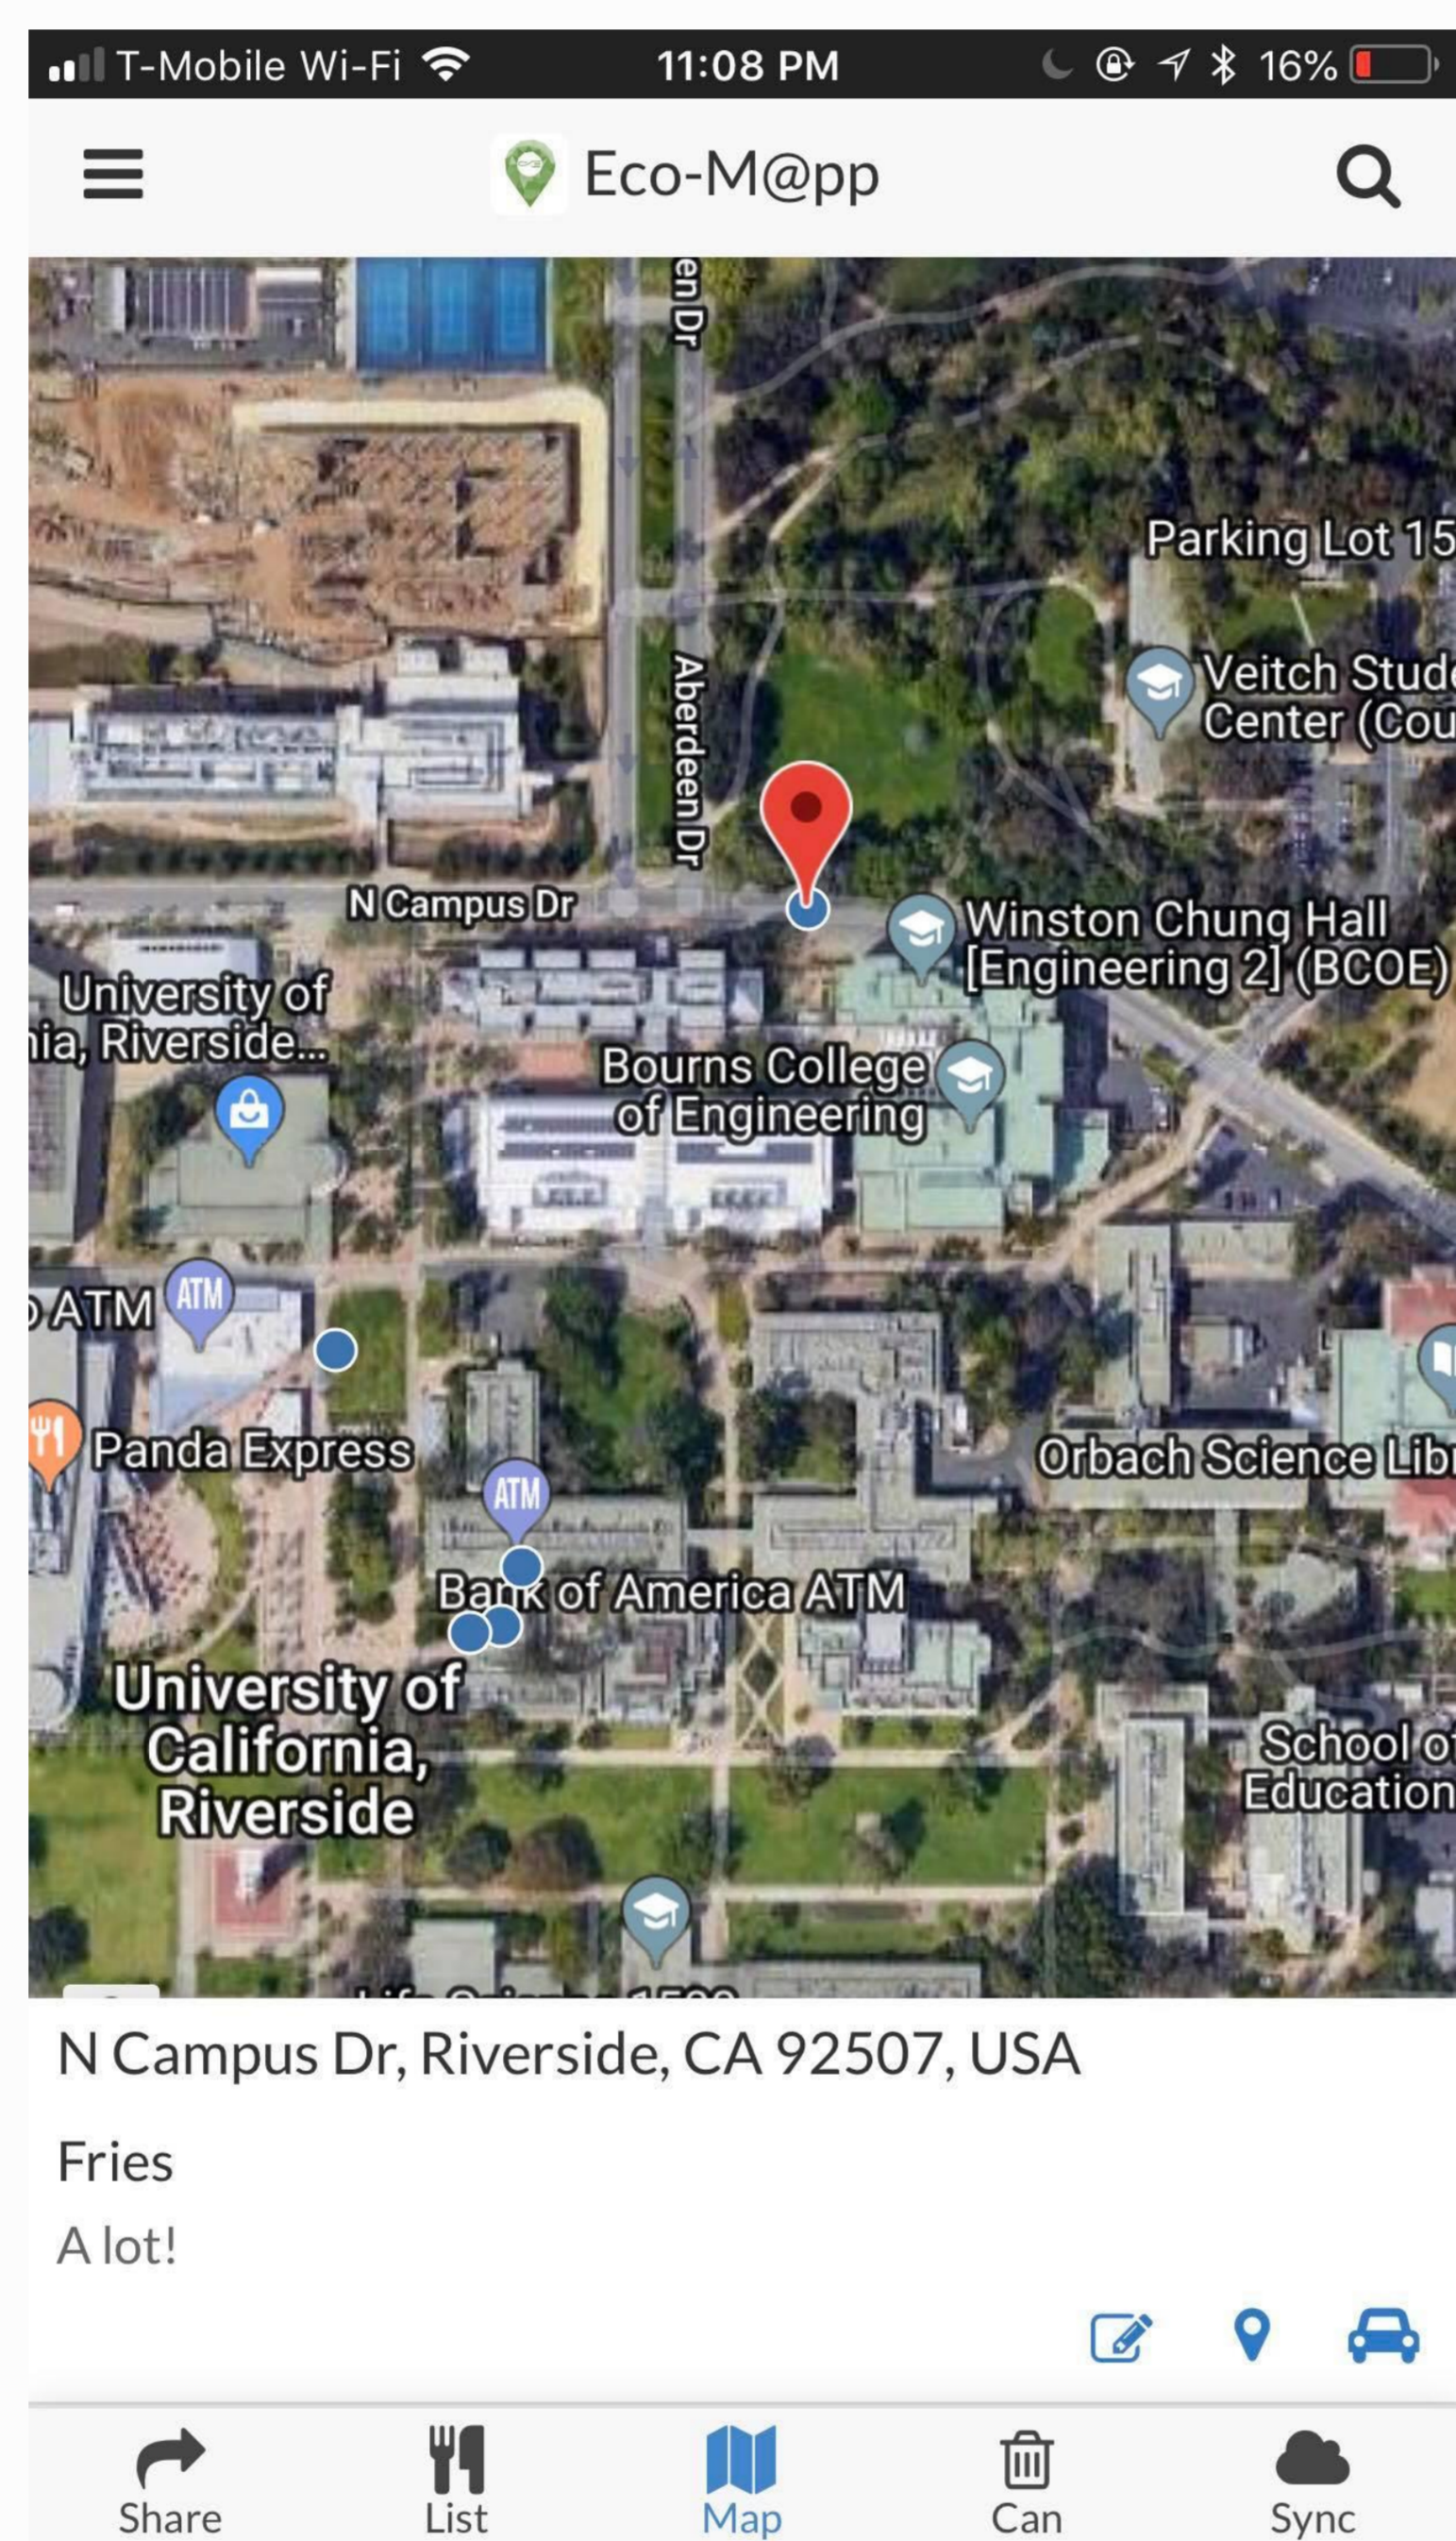

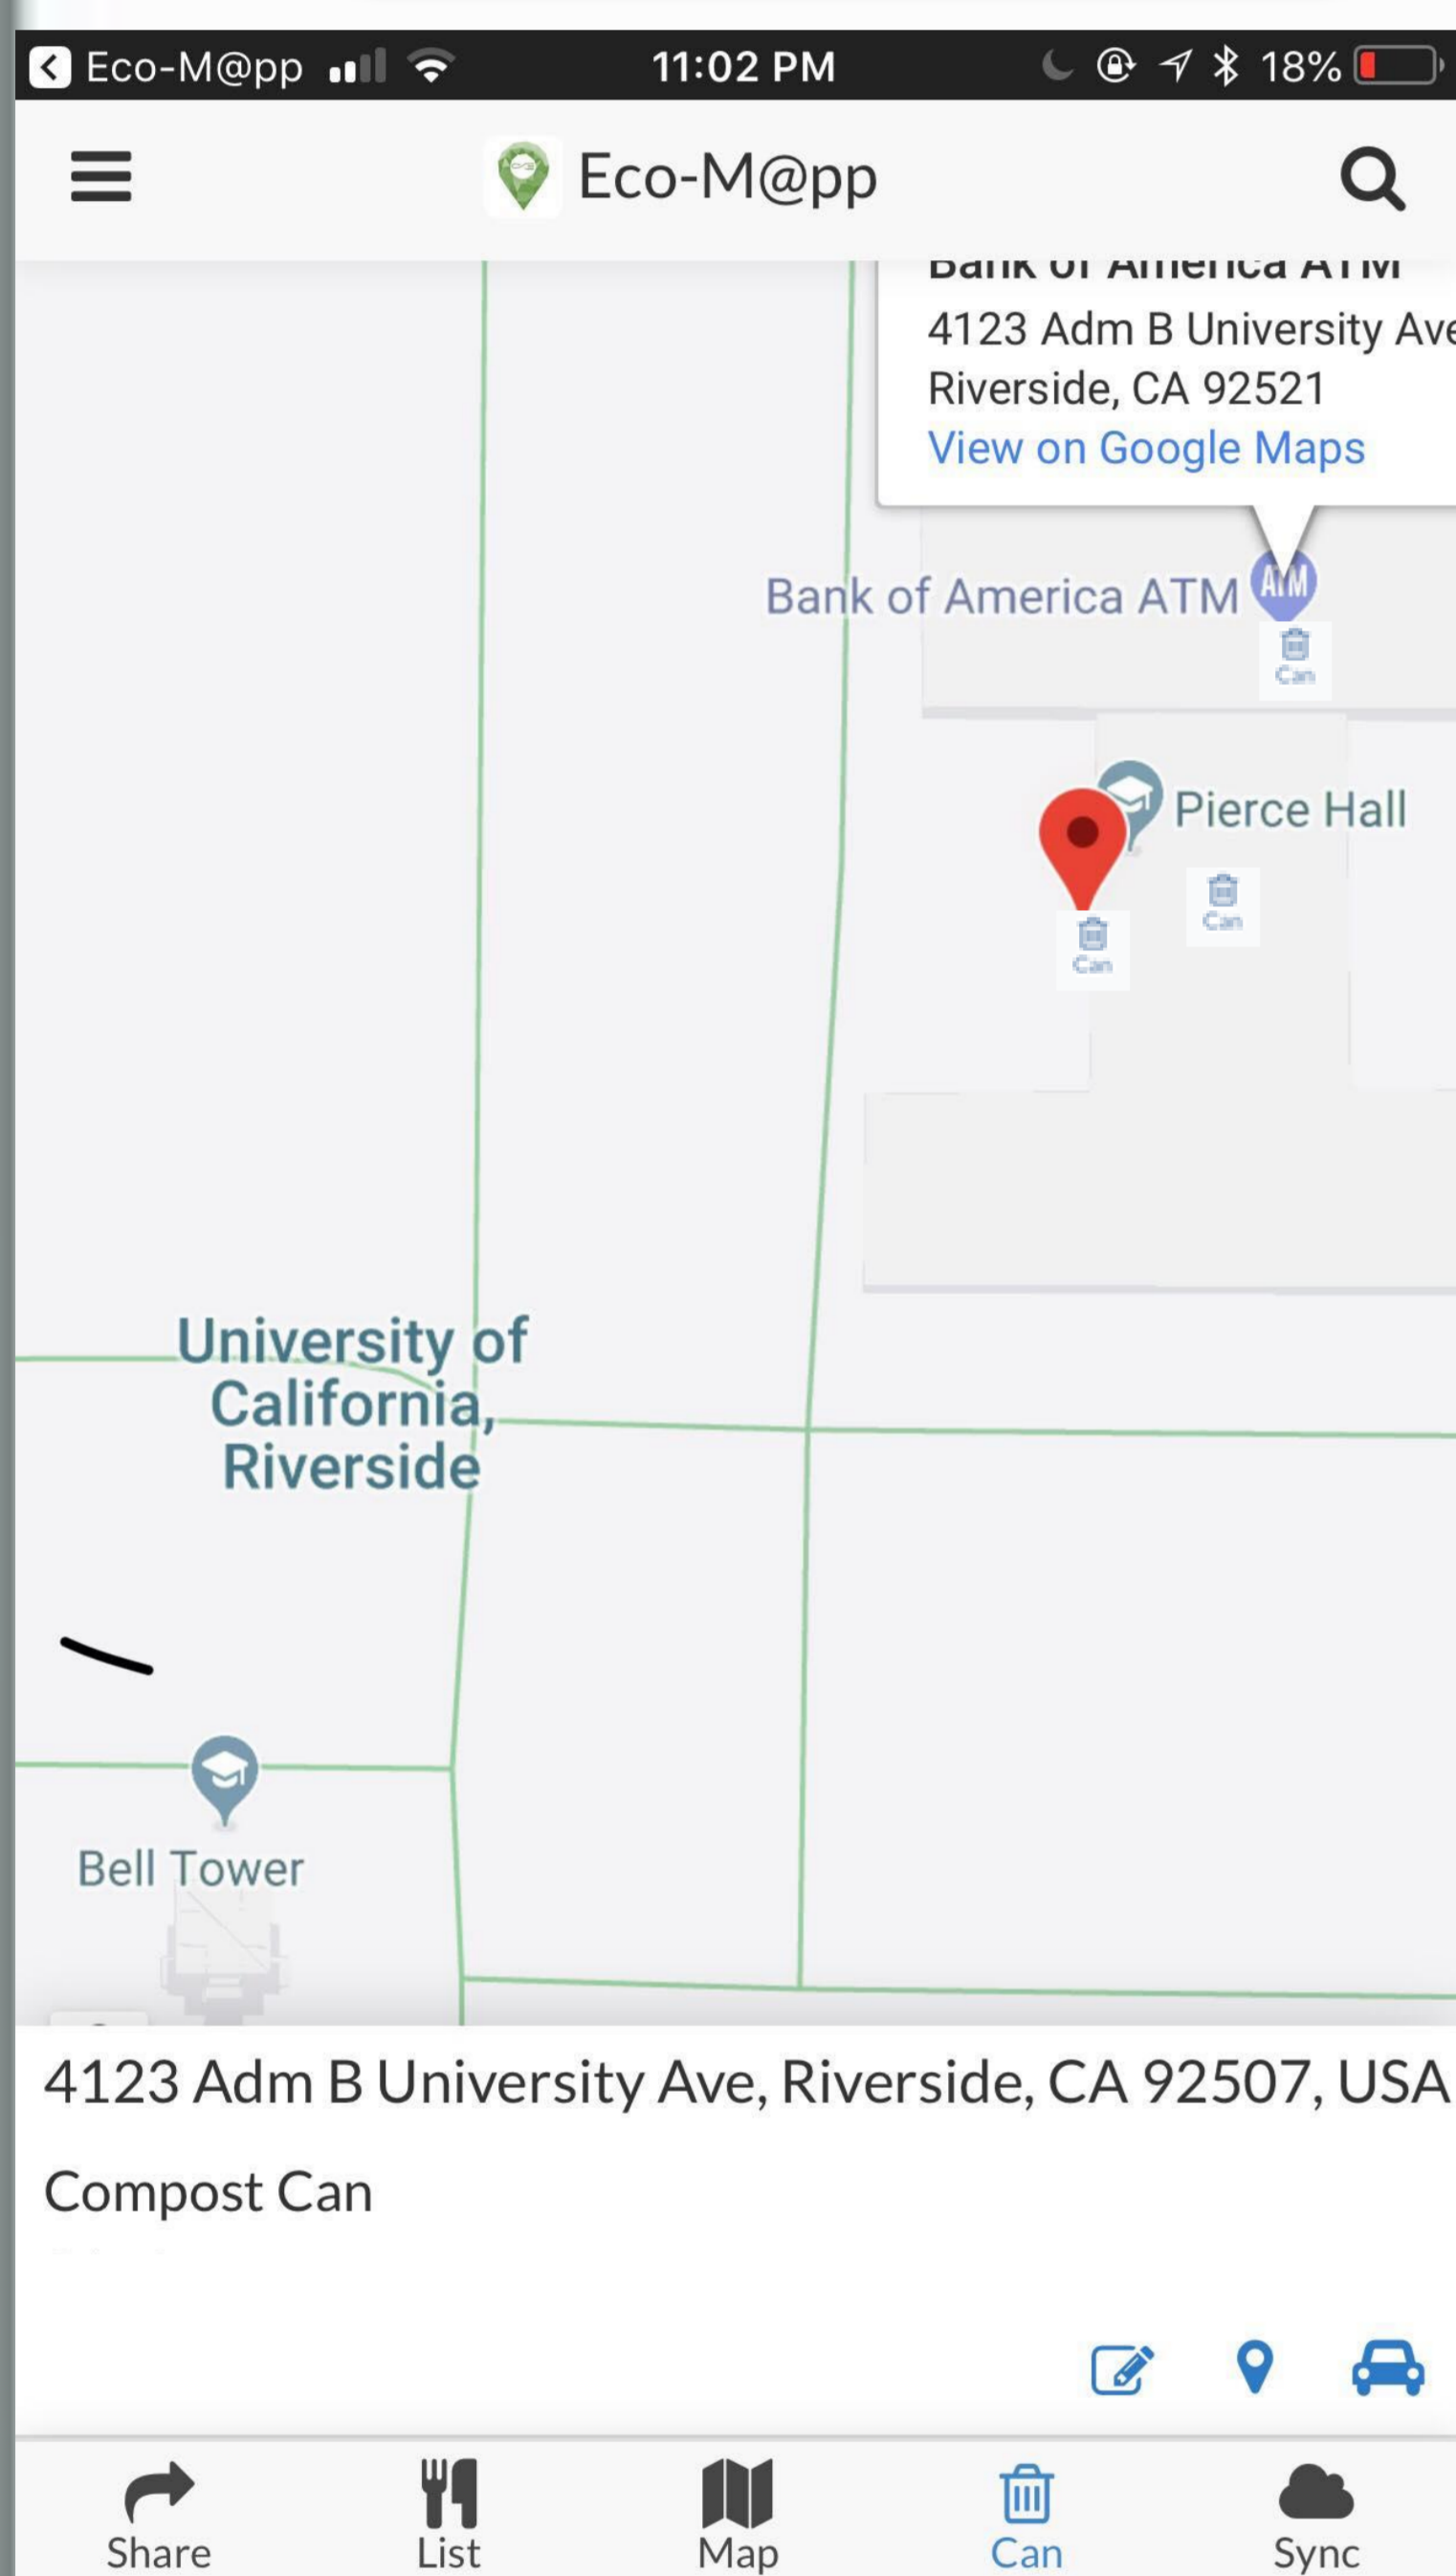

Nami Davoodzadeh, University of California
Carbon Neutrality Initiative Fellowship

GET

We fight food waste by helping event coordinators to share their event surplus food.

4.5, 638 Valo...

OUR MISSION

Each year, one third of the food produced globally is wasted. At Eco-M@pp, we want to reduce food waste on our campus. We fight food waste by helping event coordinators and students to share their surplus food through our free smartphone app.

OUR VISION

The result is win-win-win: the event coordinators or students can share the provided food instead of throwing it away; users enjoy great free meals; and most importantly, the environment wins as a result of the reduction in food waste and thus emission of green house gasses.

Do you want to make a difference? ★★★★★

Everyday, we strive to do better, and we are always looking for like-minded talent who's hearts beat heavily for the cause. Eco-M@pp is a young, vibrant, fast-paced project, and you will surely learn and grow when you are a part of our team.

Do you want to want to be a part of Eco-M@pp? Contact us: ndavo001@ucr.edu