GOALS

- To discover, empower, heal, cultivate and inspire people in their homes, on campuses and communities towards positive change that supports eco-friendly practices
- To bridge the gap between academia, local organizations and community members striving for transformative change and empowering them through unification, sharing of information, support and ideas
- To open communication and elevate voices by eliminating barriers that prevent us from participating and being heard.

STRATEGY

Create relative content by exploring campus life, local communities and personal challenges to sustainability

Provide training, resources and tools to optimize civic engagement

Engage in local events and expand network
