In all cultures, storytelling evolves from the culinary experiences of people preparing and enjoying food. These stories act like cultural recipes, guiding us and helping make sense of who we are as members of our communities, as families, or members of our institutions. In honor of Multicultural Day 2020, we invite you to submit a cooking story of culture and connectivity. Share stories of how you and your culture celebrate milestones, weather struggles, express gratitude, welcome newcomers, enjoy each other’s company or display any number of human emotions and experiences through food and cooking.

Directions: Please complete this form if you would like to submit a recipe and story for the written cookbook or a video recipe. Please see the recipe examples and video instructions for your submissions. The story should share the cultural connection of your recipe to your personal or workplace culture, heritage, or histories. The written story should be 150 words or less; the video should be no longer than five minutes.

Please title your document and/or video: Firstname_Lastname_RecipeTitle
Please submit photos labeled: Firstname_Lastname_RecipeTitle_Photo(number if more than one)

Once you have completed the form please save a copy and upload to the UCOP 2020 Multicultural Week Box folder indicated below.

If you have any questions or difficulties with this form, please email culture@ucop.edu. Thank you.

*Recipe name: Egg Drop Soup

*Recipe ingredients
- 4 Cups Chicken Broth
- 3 Eggs
- 3/4 cup Green Onions / Scallions
- 12-14 oz Frozen Corn
- 4 oz Mushrooms
- 1 tbsp soy sauce
- 1 tsp sesame oil
- 1 tsp cornstarch
- 1 tbsp pepper
- salt to taste

*Recipe instructions
Bring chicken broth to boil. Add soy sauce, sesame oil and cornstarch. Add Mushrooms and Corn. Return soup to boil. Whisk eggs. Once soup is at a boil, turn down to a slow simmer, and slowly pour whisked eggs into the soup. Use a fork to gently pull eggs to get the strands of eggs for the soup. Add green onions to garnish, and then ladle soup into small bowls. Enjoy!

This is one of my go to soups especially during the winter. Its healthy, low calorie and a great to have before a meal. Its something my mom made for me when I was a kid and teenager. I think mom’s appreciate something fast and nutritious they can give to a child. She taught me how to make this soup, because as a teenager I asked her to show me how to cook a few things. She I think also secretly wanted to make sure he son could feed himself in college and not rely on dorm food! But my wife loves this soup as well.

Recipe name: Pollo en Cazuela (Whole chicken in a pot)

Ingredients

1 whole chicken
1/2 cup dry white wine (not cooking wine)
1/2 cup water
1/2 green pepper, sliced

Spices: salt, pepper, fresh garlic, lemon juice, cumin, 1 bay leaf

Instructions

In a bowl, season chicken to taste with the spices. Pour the wine over the chicken and let stand for 2 hours. Remove the chicken from the liquid (reserving liquid) and brown in oil. Add the reserved liquid, water, onion and peppers. Cover and simmer at medium high. Baste chicken with occasionally making sure that the onions and peppers do not burn. When chicken is done (thermometer reading 165 degrees in the thickest part of the chicken), uncover and allow liquid to reduce. Serve with white rice.

Connection to my cultural history

This is my favorite old-school chicken recipe because it has been passed on from generation to generation. It is an authentic Cuban recipe, one of the few that remains unchanged by its travels from Cuba to America. There were five siblings and my mother would teach each of us how to cook this recipe individually. While we cooked she would share stories of meals she had with her family in Cuba. We would all sit around the kitchen table listening to the stories while the one person cooking took mental notes. It was a way for us to connect with all of our Cuban relatives that we never had the chance to meet.

Recipe name: Recipe for happy office buddies

Ingredients

1 dash quiet understanding
1 scoop loyalty
1 smidgen of gossip

Instructions

Mix mutual confidence and loyalty to create a smooth consistency. Add acceptance and quiet understanding to build strength into the mixture. Sprinkle a smidgen of light-hearted gossip to spice the pot and stir in mass quantities of humor to lighten the brew. Serve with a positive attitude, a hot beverage and anything that can be bought at your favorite bakery.

Connection to my workplace cultural

A friend of mine whose idea of cooking is a drawer full of take-out menus shared her favorite recipe for being successful at work. It was a while ago but I think it still works today.
Sample video instructions

The video segment should focus on the story associated with your recipe, not necessarily every step of the cooking process. However, we would like the final product to be included in the video.

Instruction for creating a video via Zoom

To record a video using Zoom, login to Zoom and start a new meeting.

Starting a cloud recording (from Zoom)

Note: Only hosts and co-hosts can start a cloud recording. If you want a participant to start a recording, you can make them a co-host or use local recording. Recordings started by co-hosts will still appear in the host’s recordings in the Zoom web portal.

To record a meeting to the cloud:
1. Start a meeting as the host.
2. Click the Record button in the Zoom toolbar.
3. Select Record to the Cloud to begin recording.
4. To stop recording, click Pause/Stop Recording or End Meeting.

Once the recording has been stopped, the recording must be processed before viewing. Zoom will send an email to the host’s email address when the process is completed.
